

Sarah Larbi's goal is to inspire young professionals to realize their own property owning dreams when they thought real estate investment was going to be out of reach.

She will share her seven step investment process that enabled her to go from broke to a seven home, seven figure investment property portfolio by her early 30's.

Her results-oriented approach has been featured in The Toronto Star, 1010 News Talk Radio, and Canadian Real Estate Wealth Magazine and she is an invited speaker at investor conferences.

Sarah is the host of her own podcast "Where Should I Invest?" interviewing fellow real estate investors about their strategies. She also co-hosts investor learning sessions through the SO REIT Club.